

Night Death

Special

Note: A translation is a temporary conversion of the targets life processes into those of a particular class of undead. A target who has been translated is in all respects the undead to which he was translated. Protect Translations spells will only function upon a target that is currently under the effects of an active translation. They will not function for true undead. Inherent weaknesses are those things which are the creatures true bane. For example, a stake through the heart, sunlight, garlic, silver weapons, holy symbols, sanctified ground, spells which control undead, etc.

3—Protect Translation I (U) Caster gives the translation a bonus resistance roll versus its inherent weaknesses. This spell will only serve the translation once within its duration.

5—Cadavic Translation (F) Caster translates the abilities of a zombie or lesser, similar undead upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creature the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.

8—Protect Translation II (U) Caster gives the translation two bonus resistance rolls versus its inherent weaknesses. This spell will only serve the translation twice within its duration.

10—Spectral Translations (F) Caster translates the abilities of a Wraith or lesser, similar undead upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creature the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.

13—Protect Translation III (U) Caster gives the translation three bonus resistance rolls versus its inherent weaknesses. This spell will only serve the translation three times within its duration.

15—Lycanthropic Translations (F) Caster translates the abilities of a Greater Lycanthrope or lesser, similar were-creature upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creature the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.

18—Protect Translation IV (U) Caster gives the translation four bonus resistance rolls versus its inherent weaknesses. This spell will only serve the translation four times within its duration.

20—Vampiric Translations (F) Caster translates the abilities of a Greater Vampire or lesser, similar undead upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creature the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.

25—Lichic Translations (F) Caster translates the abilities of a Lich or lesser, similar undead upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creature the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.

30—Protect Translation True (U) Translation is immune to all inherent weaknesses associated with its type(s) for the duration of this spell.

50—Translation True (F) Caster translates the abilities of any three Greater Undead or lesser, similar undead upon a living target. The target is under the command of the caster for the duration of this spell. Once this spell has expired, the Target must make a second resistance roll. If he fails, he will be permanently transformed into the undead creatures the caster has chosen for him and under his complete control.
